DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Weidman et al. in view of Lee.

There is disclosed in Weidman a hot beverage maker comprising: a stand 11; a removable brewed beverage tank 28; a filter basket 18 mounted inside of the tank; a reservoir portion (lower portion) of the tank; an outlet port 29 positioned substantially at the bottom of the tank; a dispenser actuator 17 connected to the outlet port; a warmer plate 71; a fresh water chamber 14; and a hot water shower head 50 connected via tube 48 to the water chamber.

Lee discloses a push button dispenser actuator including a plug 350 comprising a stem 362 and a seal ring 358 wherein the lower portion of the stem has a substantially inverted conical shape.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the dispenser and actuator arrangement of Weidman with that disclosed in Lee, in order to provide an alternative means for dispensing liquid from the brewed beverage tank.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08 February 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It appears that the wrong element number was given to represent the removable brewed beverage tank. Element 16 represents the housing in which the removable tank 28 is mounted. While Weidman discloses that element 16 is the brewed beverage tank, the actual collection of brewed beverage is made in the liner 28 which is removable from base element 11 (see fasteners at stilts 36a of figure3). The erroneous indication of elements was made without any malicious intent and an apology is hereby given. But, look at the other elements of the claims and how they are associated with the tank, one could conclude that element 28 is what was being referred to in the rejection of the claims. The filter basket sits within element 28 and the heater is removably mounted to the tank. Therefore, the rejection still stands and is being considered final.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
